

A Call to Prayer for the Election of a New Archbishop

The next Archbishop of Sydney will be elected at the special session of Sydney Synod beginning Monday 5th August. This election is of strategic importance for the work of the gospel in Sydney and the most important thing we can do is pray.

Members of the Anglican Church League invite you to join us at these venues to pray together for this election Synod and that the Lord Jesus will be glorified.

These open meetings are for prayer (and not for the promotion of particular candidates).

All Synod members and all church members are warmly invited and encouraged to come. We do hope you can pray with us!
